ADIL

is derived from the Arabic word ‘Adil which means a just person.

Allah s.w.t. commands Muslims to be bearers of justice for it is closest to Taqwa (God- consciousness)."

اعْدِلُوا هُوَ أَقْرَبُ لِلتَّقْوَىٰ

"Be just, this is closest to Taqwa," [Al-Ma'idah 5:8]

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

Structured Learning

With a defined learning track from baseline to intermediate and advanced levels, participants will be offered opportunities to study their areas of interest in greater depth at different levels.

Enquiry-Based Learning

Participants will be applying contemplation and reasoning where applicable. Case studies will be presented in class, and participants will be given the opportunity to study the cases critically and provide their inputs and perspectives in class, guided by Murabbi.

Reflective Learning

Participants will be able to draw learning points from the lessons in relation to current context, enabling them to reflect on key learning points and self-assess their development throughout the programme.

Traditionally Rooted

The content of the curriculum is based on Islamic traditional point of reference.

Non-Examinable

This programme is entirely non-examinable. Adult learners will be able to self-asses their level of understanding with the guidance of the Murabbi. The rich learning experience will encourage the application of the knowledge learnt in the participants' daily lives.

Rooted in Islamic tradition yet relevant in providing guidance with contextualised understanding and practice of Islam in Singapore and a globalised world.

Highlights Muis' official fatwas, irsyads and the Singapore Muslim Identity (SMI) values in the curriculum.

Structured learning with Core and Elective pathways, engaging and interactive ADIL Murabbi, and non-examinable assessments.

Promotes reflective and inquiry-based learning, with a focus on developing strong and resilient Muslim families, contributing to the nation, and being a blessing to all.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

I am just starting to learn the religion, where should i start?
We recommend you to begin with the modules as they cover the foundational aspects of Islam. Hence, you may consider AY Centres that offer these modules first.

What is the difference on the sets of modules?
The only difference is the arrangement of the modules. Ultimately, all the modules will be covered within the span of 2 years.

How do I register for the ADIL AY program?
You may go to learnislam.sg and click on your preferred AY Centre to make registration.

Why do different AY Centres arrange their modules differently?
The sets are arranged differently to provide you flexibility and options to pick, especially for AY Centres within the same mosque district.

How is ADIL AY different from the Centres that offer single modules?
ADIL AY covers all core and elective in 2 years on a weekly basis. Whereas single modules are short term and will be only offered on an ad-hoc basis.

Can I join the program midway if i missed the registration in January?
Yes you may do so, but do note that you will miss the earlier sessions. Nevertheless, you may still enrol in the missed modules when an ADIL Centre offers it separately as a modular class.

Can I change AY Centres? Or choose to only attend one module?
Yes you may do so. Please refer to your respective AY Centre for more details.

Are there any refund policies for withdrawals?
No, there are no refund policies for withdrawals as the program fee is paid monthly and not annually

How will I be notified of my confirmation?
The AY Centre that you have registered with will notify you on the confirmation.

Will I receive a certificate and further my studies with it?
Participants who complete the whole program will receive a certificate of completion by the mosque. Currently, it is an endorsement of the completion but cannot be used for furthering of studies.
